Future Healthcare Executives
University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

Participants In The ACHE Higher
Education Network

Welcome to the UW-Milwaukee Future Healthcare Executives Participants in the ACHE Higher Education Network. We are excited to have you as a member for the 2007-2008 school year. Since you have already taken the step to become a member of FHE you realize the importance of being involved in a nationally recognized professional organization in the healthcare field of your study. As your FHE officers, we intend to maximize the benefits of your membership by bringing in a broad spectrum of guest speakers and creating networking involvement in the community. We hope that you get to know your professors and fellow classmates, that you discover opportunities for after graduation, learn about the issues that face the healthcare field today and gain insight on the future of your career.

We would highly encourage you to become a national member of American College of Healthcare Executives and ACHE-WI. Your membership will create recognition by healthcare executives throughout the country and offer you professional publications such as the Journal of Healthcare Management, Healthcare Executives, and Modern Healthcare. Information on how to apply is included in your folder. There will be an opportunity to attend ACHE congress on Healthcare Leadership in Chicago for those of Junior and Senior Status.

We are excited for the events planned for this semester. To maintain an active membership, we recommend that you attend at least two meetings and participate in one volunteer activity each semester. If you have attended a volunteer event or are currently volunteering on a regular basis outside of the University, please notify Sarah Donovan, Volunteer chair at donovans@uwm.edu.

Anyone interested in fundraising??

If you fundraise, you can get money to help pay for anything through FHE such as ACHE national membership, ACHE Congress, FHE dues, and the FHE Spring Social.

We will be meeting after the first FHE membership meeting on October 3rd. Please stay after so we can see who is interested and discuss ideas to fundraise.
